Harry H. Adair was a visitor in Lincoln the first of the week, on business matters.

For your Heating Stove or Furnace, there's more "Heat Units," more lasting satisfaction—Dollar for Dollar—in a Ton of Genuine Hocking Lump Coal than in any of the cheap grades. Take home a load—You'll need it. Monroe Wilbur Lake Lumber Co., South Sioux City and Hubbard, Nebr.

The aim of the National Tuberculosis association is to place a qualified nurse in every school. Some Nebraska schools are already provided with nurses. Others will be supplied as rapidly as funds are available. Funds for this purpose are raised by the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. The campaign started December 1st.

Mrs. Rasmus Frederiksen, of Newell, Iowa and her daughter, Miss Stella Frederiksen, who is attending Morningside college, Sioux City, were Sunday visitors here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hansen. Mr. Hansen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hansen, and his sister, Miss Carrie Hansen, of Hubbard precinct, were also Sunday guests here.

Keir Bros.—Sam and Mack, who have conducted a general store here for over a year and a half, have decided to close out their business, and have put on a sale of everything in the store, at prices that will save their patrons money. The people of Dakota City and vicinity regret to see them go out of business here, as they have always been accommodating at all times, and have enjoyed a good business.

Samuel Q. James, 35 years old, residing at South Sioux City, died on Tuesday night in a Sioux City hospital from anemia. He was one of several patients at the hospital who underwent blood transfusion operations. Mr. James is survived by his wife, two small children, Forrest and Thelma, and his father, Milton James, of Pender, Neb. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from Westcott's chapel at 3 o'clock. Rev. Guy Ballard, of South Sioux City, officiating. Burial was in Gracefield Park cemetery. The Odd Fellows conducted the services at the grave.

A good water system should be the first step toward making the home modern. Some have electric lights before they have running water, because commercial concerns are in the field selling lighting systems. However, a water system can be installed for less money, and it is of greater service. A good many install the two at the same time, using an electric motor to maintain water pressure. Few farm homes are now being built that are not modern. Those thinking of building or remodeling can obtain valuable information regarding modern equipment from the College of Agriculture at Lincoln.

Lutheran Church Notes

By Rev. C. R. Lowe.
There are some people who missed a perfectly good time at the church last Friday evening. There was singing of the old songs we used to sing a long time ago, and the folks sang as though they liked the old tunes. We had fine music by the Brown Family Orchestra. And that spelling bee, well, you would almost smack your lips it was so good, enjoyed very much. It was just one of the good times Salem ought to have every little while. One of the surprises to all was the way the older folks held their own in the contest. Some were afraid the younger ones would spell the older ones down in a little while, but on the whole it was not the case. Perhaps it was the drilling they got in the days they were in school that held them up, any how as a class the adults were the better spellers. Vera Morgan, Mrs. M. G. Leamer, and Miss Mildred Harris were the last to leave the floor, and the word which proved their undoing was "bivouac."

The children had their good time at the games in the front room under the direction of Mrs. Bates, Miss Mabel Chase and Mrs. Lowe.
We would again put the folks in mind that the catechism class for adults has started, and that there is a place for all who will come. Next Sunday we will take up the third and fourth commandments for discussion.
If you have an offering for Tabitha Home you will please hand it to Mr. Culbertson, and he will see that it gets to the right destination.
The Christmas service will be held next Friday evening a week, December 23, at the church. We will have our Christmas church services next Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Leamer entertained the young folks choir after their practice for the Christmas program Sunday afternoon, with an oyster stew. The choir will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ebel next Saturday evening.

J. M. King and family, of South Sioux City, dined with Rev. and Mrs. Lowe last Wednesday evening.

Nebraska has, at her University, one of the best equipped poultry farms to be found anywhere. Representative birds of all leading breeds, a 32-egg incubator and many smaller ones, coal burning brooder stoves, trap nests and other equipment will be used in class work.

Those attending should write at once to the Poultry Department of the State University, or to the County Agent, who will supply you with application blanks.
Why not select a sample of show corn or potatoes to be exhibited at the Winter Meeting at the State University, January 3 to 7. Dakota County is the garden spot of the state. Let us show what we have by making a large number of entries. We will be glad to assist in selecting samples, should you desire our help.

DAKOTA CITY SCHOOL NOTES

J. Irwin Long, Superintendent

(Written by George Lahrs)

A new basketball was purchased by the girls' and boys' teams the past week and practice for another record breaking team has begun. Games are being scheduled and it promises to be a great season.

Henry Krumwiede has been elected captain of the boys' basketball team. Mrs. Larson was taken ill Monday of this week and had to quit teaching for the remainder of the day and the day following.

The botany class has completed some very pretty specimen books and it is interesting to see how many different plants are really existing in this part of the country.

Lorraine Ostmeier is back in school this week, after a rather severe case of eye trouble.

The school will have a "grab bag" for Christmas, and everyone is figuring what foolish thing to get for it.

Owing to a misunderstanding as to the royalty on the play, the practice has been broken off and it will be some time after Christmas before another play can be obtained.

The school has been promised six days' leave of absence for Christmas vacation, instead of the usual two weeks. This will let school out one week earlier in the spring. However, it has been found that school will not dismiss any earlier next spring than last spring.

Parents, don't forget that Miss Biermann's room represents "Santa Land and Christmas Lessons" on the evening of December 22, at 8 o'clock. Plan to have the children entertain you that evening by coming and entering into the spirit of the season with the children.

M. E. Church Notes

Rev. S. A. Draise, Pastor

The Sunday school was up to the 100 mark again last Sunday, with every officer and teacher present and working. Mighty fine. Keep it going.

The evening service was well attended. We issued the special music, unavoidable on account of sickness.

The Christmas program is being prepared and is going to be interesting.

Rev. Earl Hoon of Sioux City, and Rev. E. M. Furman of University Place, are to be out of town speakers at the men's banquet next Friday evening. Some of our local men will also speak.

Services next Sunday, morning and evening, come.

Promiscuous Giving Discouraged
The State College of Agriculture, in an extension circular called "What Christmas Should Mean to the Home and the Community," raises its modern abuse of the Christmas spirit in the promiscuous exchange of presents. In many localities giving has developed into a rivalry involving a sacrifice of time, strength, health and happiness. It is better to send an appropriate card with a happy greeting than to engage in a struggle to out-do a neighbor or a relative in the exchange of high-priced gifts. Children should be encouraged to make presents for their parents with their own hands. Likewise, parents' gifts to their children need not be expensive. A child has more fun with a rag doll than with any bisque doll that must be handled with care lest it be broken. The circular may be had upon request. Ask for Recreation circular 5, giving the title. Another circular relating to Christmas is Foods circular 26, "Christmas Cakes and Candies."
